Objectives

• The legislative background to DNAR orders
• An overview of the case law surrounding DNAR decisions
• Capacity assessments and documentation
• The application of informed consent; voluntary decisions and appropriate information
• Example DNAR forms. How to use them and defensible documentation guidance
• Communicating DNAR decisions with healthcare teams and families/carers; what to discuss, when and how

The course will be facilitated by
Kate Hill
Solicitor
InPractice and RadcliffesLeBrasseur Solicitors
The importance of proper documentation and communication of DNAR orders cannot be emphasised enough. There is still confusion as to how they should be applied, who should be consulted and the documentation required when they have been followed.

This training day will look at the role of DNARs and how they should be documented, applied and communicated.
